Comments:

Wrong:

The early drizzle held off and it was good to welcome folks to a new venue for LampO with a brief reminder that the orange/brown wiggly lines on the map needed a bit of respect out here. Unusually no runner had any time penalties although it was a close thing for Liz. Only one runner was tempted by the outlier at the High School though Richard suspects he might also have had time to squeeze it in had he used his full time allowance. Even those who knew Pateley, like Katie and David, found some untried ginnels. So definitely a success. We can all put away our headtorches until the autumn as we move on to our Spring series in the woods and parks.
